

CARE Community Classroom Webinar Series

INTRODUCTION TO TRAUMA-INFORMED EDUCATION

June 9 | 12-2 p.m. | Virtual Presentation and Facilitated Discussion

Presented by the Louisiana Childhood Adversity Resilience Education Network and Whole Health Louisiana

Join the Louisiana Childhood Adversity Resilience Education Network and Whole Health Louisiana for an introductory virtual presentation and facilitated discussion on trauma-informed education.

The Louisiana Department of Health, Office of Public Health, Bureau of Family Health Louisiana Childhood Adversity Resilience Education (LA CARE) Network trains volunteers – professionals and community members alike – to become certified educators on four core trauma-informed modules. Certified volunteer educators deliver these presentations at no cost to their communities at a variety of local organizations. The webinar series explores trauma-informed care, childhood adversity, and practical resilience-building strategies.

The virtual presentation will provide information on the impact of childhood adversity on students' education and school and classroom culture, best practices for trauma-informed approaches to education, and strategies to recognize and prevent secondary traumatic stress in school employees.

The presentation will be followed by a facilitated peer discussion tailored for educators, school personnel, and administrators. It will provide an interactive space to reflect on the presentation, share real classroom examples, and learn from colleagues across Louisiana.

Continuing education for this event is available for nursing, social work and licensed professional counselors. Certificates of attendance are available by request.
